Artists' Studio Tour Set for Saturday

A double delight awaits lovers of art and architecture who attend the forthcoming Artist Studio Open House tour, which will feature many of the artists and artisans "in action."

First, the work to be shown displays a high degree of excellence and variety, and second, the studio-homes themselves are unusual and exciting many enjoy spectacular marine views.

School Budget Deadlock Broken

by Margot Hyatt

Carmel District Schools were threatened with closing last night when, in the absence of Father James Brock, the board deadlocked 2-2 on proposals to increase the final budget which must be adopted by July 15.

The reason for the differences lay in what disposition to make of an unexpected windfall of greater income, $261,579 based on 9.6 per cent reassessment rather than the estimated 5 per cent, as well as state refunds and prior and unsecured taxes.

A third compromise proposal by James Miller, serving at his first meeting, was finally passed. This restored the $25,000 in instructional,

Loopholes in Motel Expansion Ordinance Plugged by Council

By Gunnar Norberg

Last night the Carmel City Council made a landmark decision when it gave final approval to an ordinance prohibiting the expansion or enlargement of building floor area, lodging units, and kitchens in motels in residential areas.

While the ordinance had been given tentative approval at last month's regular meeting, last night's action was the decisive and final one, for it was the second reading and adoption of the new law.

Ever since the end of 1967, it has been realized that there are loopholes in the much-disputed original residential - area motel - control ordinance.

Last night's concluding council action was the vote to close those loopholes, and the vote was unanimous with all members of the Council present. Furthermore there were no arguments among Council members before the vote was taken.

Perhaps the next most important action the Council took last night occurred just before adjournment when council members discussed the possibility that unauthorized tree-cutting might have taken place on Santa Fe, south of 8th, and then made the emphatic point that any cutting-down of live city trees would be allowed only after the council had given its specific approval.

While this attitude has been long-established council policy, Councilman Frank Falge felt that "better attention" needed to be given to it—a point of view to which other council members took no exception.

AW, BE QUIET! — Gladys Zarazua, with shovel, responds to the sidewalk superintends surrounding her (mostly . . . ugh . . . male) as she wields a shovel to dig the hole necessary to plant the fir tree in the can. The ceremony was the kick-off for the two-day Carmel Valley Art Fiesta held recently, and will provide a community Christmas for the children in the future. The tree idea was the brainchild of the mothers of Susan Venturelli's 2nd and 3rd grades, primarily Mrs. Mildred Hatton and Mrs. Louise Neidinger. The class used money left over from the class party to purchase the tree, which was planted next to the road where everone can share in its future.

To date artists who have been announced for hte Festival are: Julian "Cannonball" Adderley and his Quintet and Buddy Rich and his Band. Both groups are set to perform during the Sunday evening concert Sept. 21.

In the course of a discussion concerning the idea of ordering engineering studies which would eventually lead to the setting of official street grades on both San Antonio street and portions of Santa Lucia, council members said they had heard from residents along Santa Lucia who wondered if the city had in mind making major improvements in view of certain markings on the pavement which had been observed there.

Because of the way Santa Lucia meanders from Rio Road westward toward the sea, and because official grades have not been established along the street in past years, many property owners there have possibly long used portions of the street which have never been opened for street purposes, and would therefore be perturbed if suddenly the city were to open Santa Lucia to its originally intended width.

In ordering the engineering studies in question, the Council pointed out that only the portion of Santa Lucia from Dolores street eastward to Rio Road would be involved, and that in any event no major work was going to start even there any time soon.

A proposal from the Cultural Commission to rent the gymnasium and an adjoining room at Sunset Center to Black Lion Productions, a motion picture concern, was referred to the council's committee on lands and improvements. The room to which reference was made is presently occupied by City Planning Director John Riling, for whom other accommodation would have to be found before the proposed rental could be considered.

Renewal of the lease on the Carmel Youth Center property came before the Council, but no action was taken after City Attorney William Burleigh stated that the request for the renewal could only come properly before the city following a formal request for it from the Youth Center governing board which is not due to meet until September.

At preceding council meetings, and again last night, Council members expressed the view that the 20-year renewal term which had been mentioned should be shortened if possible.

The proposal to employ high school boys, in groups of four, to clean up city beaches and parks during the balance of the summer—which had been made by Mayor Barney Laiolo—won council approval, after Councilman Herbert Blanks had wondered if the needed work could be performed by the city street department, as in past years. When the sum of $2,000 was approved for the summer workers, Councilman Blanks abstained from voting.

City Forester Robert Tate, who will be in charge of the beach-and-park cleanup detail, felt that he would get full value for the money spent.

Lefty Jim Brown Downs Lefty Ken Green In Celebrity Tennis

In a battle of lefties, Jim Brown, the black belt holder of the net set, measured Beach and Tennis Club champion Ken Green to win his second consecutive Pebble Beach Celebrity single's title.

Playing without his 20-pound muscle toning tube, the former Texas State singles title holder managed to keep the hard hitting Green pinned to the base line as he jumped off to a 5-3 lead in the final eight game pro set match.

Green, an ex-San Jose State varsity player, fought back to tie at 5-5. But in the crucial 11th, Brown was able to break service, and in the 12th, after being down 15-40, the former star of the Rin-Tin-Tin tee-vees came on to best his stronger opponent, 8-6.

Immediately after, a tired Brown and his youthful partner, actor Tony Hayes, dropped the doubles finals to California Veteran's title holder, Jack "Moose" Myers, the one-time Los Angeles Rams, and film star, Phillip Reed.

Myers, who lost the tip of his racquet hand index finger in an accident last week, rallied superbly to allow Reed to put away several shots from forecourt.

The 10-5 canter was a disappointment to the several hundred fans, many of whom watched the tournament's best doubles play Saturday, when Brown and Hayes beat Carmel restaurateur Yvan Nopert and Cornel Wilde 8-6, 7-5 to make the finals.

School Budget Deadlock Broken

building, grounds and maintenance funds, cut from the tentative budget to meet cost-of-living salary demands by teachers, added another 2 per cent to the salary readjustment, or $48,956 which was promised if funds became available, and placed $45,570 more in undistributed reserves, of which $17,000 was earmarked for implementation of a drug abuse program.

Richard Wilson had originally proposed an increase to the undistributed reserves of $87,623, as well as the $25,000 cut restoration and $48,956 salary readjustment.

Stephen Sassoon objected to any increase at all in the tentative budget adopted at the last meeting, saying that the public had not been informed, a fifth member of the board was not present, and that they should look at ways of reducing costs.

James Miller objected to the proposal on the grounds that there was no definite plan for the undistributed reserve which might present a temptation to spend on unnecessary items.

Schools superintendant Dr. Harris J. Taylor reminded them that $230,000 worth of desirable items were not even in the budget, such as inservice training of teachers, a 4th grade music instrument instructional program, library renovation, elementary counsellor, drug abuse program, and home economics program at high school.

Dr. Hilton Bialek, newly elected board president, felt that with the opportunity to build up reserves the board should do so in light of anticipated tax revisions next year.

A proposal by Miller increasing the salary adjustment by only 1½ per cent, and the undistributed reserves by $48,956 failed. Sassoon gave same reasons and Bialek objected that the budget was too low.

Taylor broke the deadlock by suggesting that breaking faith with the teachers would be undesirable. This led to Miller's third proposal, which passed.

New officers elected besides Dr. Bialek were Richard T. Wilsdon as clerk, Dr. Taylor as secretary, and James Miller as representative to the Monterey County School Board Association.

Carmel Artists Seaside Exhibit

During the month of July the Seaside Art Commission is presenting an exhibit of the paintings of Don Bloom and crafts from the Carmel Craft Guild at the Seaside City Hall Gallery.

Don Bloom is a native Californian and has many family associations with the Peninsula. His family and the founders of Seaside were friends and he spent his summers here as a child. Bloom is now living in Napa Valley, but for many years lived in Big Sur. He is a long time member of the Carmel Art Association, where he had a show last February.

The Carmel Craft Guild has many items on exhibit in the cases at the Seaside City Hall. The Guild is a group of artists and craftsmen who formed their association to exchange ideas and to arrange shows of members' work in jewelry, weaving, pottery, sculpture and art metal work. They own the craft building at the County Fair Grounds, where they arrange the yearly craft show during the Fair. They are members of the World Craft Council and the American Craftsmen Council.

The Seaside City Hall Gallery is open Monday through Friday from 9 to 5 and the public is most cordially invited.

ON EXHIBITION — "The Long Wharf" by William Timmins is being shown in the Main Gallery of the Carmel Art Association Exhibit through Aug. 6. This scene at Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey has a contemporary feeling, dominated by blues and yellows in expert form and perspective. Timmins' work is also shown at the Perry House in Monterey.

Carmel Art Association Offers Varied Exhibition in All Media By Members

by Louise Cook

At the entrance show case of the Carmel Art Association this month one is greeted by the unmistakable work of the late Myron Oliver — a view of rural France, "Morning, Quimper."

In the Main Gallery Bonnie Nazarenko gives an exaggerated perspective to "Church in Augusta" which seems to combine Victorian with Gothic architecture.

Jane Buffington's "Tribal Indian Springs," a combination of collage and canvas, at first seems abstract. A closer study reveals a clear blue stream flowing from warmly colored rocks. Another flow of water, "Falls at Clark Fork" by Stephen Hennessy, discloses an idyllic sylvan scene, spotlighting a refreshing waterfall.

Virginia Fry applies fresh greens, grays and earth tones, with an overlay of natural grasses to her collage of Santa Cruz.

In the Beardsley Room is another contrast of impressions. "Noyo Harbor" by Edward Norton Ward, a curve of cooly blue water, achieves space and distance and a feeling of crisp air. Elwood Graham sees his "Inner Harbor" as a patchwork of bright color. Graham is being honored with a one-man-show at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association this month.

In "Mountain Town," Louise Cardeiro Boyer arranges red-roofed houses like children's building blocks, piled one atop the other. Sam Harris applies rich color in a lovely composition "Sad Mountain Song."

Ken Weise makes elegant use of his material in "High Note of Joy," a creamy, translucent piece of onyx. Weise simplifies his subject in "Bird at Rest" a bronze figure. Beth Garcia nestles two irresistable pelicans in an appropriate rock formation in one of her sculptures in miniature.

Bach 'St. Matthew' Passion Set for Two Performances

Johann Sebastian Bach's great Passion According to St. Matthew will be performed twice during this year's Carmel Bach Festival.

On Sunday, July 20 and again on Sunday, July 27, audiences will have an opportunity of hearing this work of intense piety and devotion sung in the original German by soloists, James Schwabacher as the Evangelist, Thomas Paul as Jesus, and Marie Gibson, Joanna Simon, Leo Goeke and Richard Clarke.

The Festival Chorale and Chorus will be augmented by a children's chorus and the productions will be under the direction of Festival conductor Sandor Salgo. In the July 27th concert Douglas Lawrence will sing the role of Jesus.

Last presented on a Festival program in 1965, the St. Matthew Passion is one of Bach's more important choral works.

Conductor Salgo will, for the first time, use a small baroque organ for most of the recitatives with a larger one used in the choruses. His decision to perform the Passion in the original German was based on a desire to preserve the careful relationship which the composer established between the sounds of the German text and his music.

As in past years, the Passion will be absolutely complete and Maestro Salgo will pay special attention to the placement of his forces (divided choruses), the types of instruments employed and the varying size of the ensemble.

For information regarding tickets for these and other Festival programs write Carmel Bach Festival, Box 503, Carmel, California 93921 and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Gunnar Norberg Ponders Old-Time Carmel Playwrights

Last week, Gunnar Norberg reminisced about the great number of plays, written by Carmelites or out-of-towners, that had their premier in Carmel. The Pine Cone presents the second installment here, and the conclusion will appear next week.)

Another world premiere at the Forest Theater was the production of Mary Austin's "Fire." Among the many literary works of Mary Austin in later years, was another play, "The Man Who Didn't Believe in Christmas," which had its opening on Broadway instead of Carmel.

Other internationally recognized poets, in addition to Mary Austin, have had their first plays produced in Carmel. "Yolanda of Cyprus" by Cale Young Rice had its initial production in the Forest Theater away back in 1916, while "Tower Beyond Tragedy" by Robinson Jeffers was first staged there in 1941.

The Rice play-in-verse was later rewritten as grand opera, and had its premiere in that version in Chicago in 1929.

The Carmel production of Jeffers' "Tower Beyond Tragedy" was a notable event nationally, for Judith Anderson, who was already then a famous Broadway actress, came here to appear in the leading role.

Donnan Jeffers, the author's son, recalls that he "carried a spear" in the play.

Original plays by two former Carmel mayors were first produced in the Forest Theater: Perry Newberry's "Junipero Serra" and Herbert Heron's "Montezuma," "Tusitala," and "Pharaoh."

Heron often produced and directed other plays, including a Shakespearean series. He produced, and acted in an original play by Jack London, who was then (1915) living in Carmel and was a member of the same production group as Heron. The play was "The First Poet."

Perry Newberry, who became a well-known writer of boys' books, was long active in Carmel theater work, as well as editor of the Carmel Pine Cone.

Among plays he produced here was "The Man from Home," written by Harry Leon Wilson who then lived in the Carmel Highlands. Wilson's co-author was Booth Tarkington.

Other Carmel mayors and city councilmen have appeared in local plays. Frank Putnam, a former mayor, for example, appeared in the only locally produced play presented on the upstairs stage of the present Golden Bough Theater, before it became a motion picture house. The play was "The Queen's Husband" and it was directed by the late Edward (Ted) Kuster, who was for many years a leading local theater figure. The year was 1953. (Playing the role of the 'queen' in the play, was Barbara Norberg, a former Carmel Arts Commission chairman).

As long ago as 1915, the year of its founding, the Pine Cone was quoted in a brochure as saying that the Forest theater by that time had "more than a local reputation, as is evinced by the 36 plays from all parts of the country" which were submitted in that year's "competition for the annual play."

Wages Average 4c Per Hour for Gann

Two month's work that earned him the magnificent sum of $12, or about 4c an hour while in Israel photographing the Arab-Israeli war was described by Carmel photographer Steve Gann at last week's Rotary meeting at the La Playa Hotel.

Yesterday the group saw a motion picture showing Broadway Joe Namath and his Jet teammates destroying the Baltimore Colts in the Pro-Bowl game.

And next week Fred Cunningham will present a representative of the Underwriter's Laboratory, a non-profit testing organization, who will present a slide show telling how to identify safe and tested products.

KILL-JOY! ! ! —

Monterey County's more than 60,000 public school students are in the midst of summer play, family outings and general fun which must inevitably end with fall and the resumption of school.

For most of those students, that cessation of vacation frivolity comes on Sept. 2, when 22 of the county's 27 school districts open.

Carmel Unified School District students get a two day break, since they don't go back to school until Sept. 4, and MPC students are even better off with a Sept. 10 return date.

Closing dates for the 1969-70 school year are more scattered. Carmel schools go on vacation on June 11, MPC students get out June 12.

Author's July Fourth Party Memorable

Although busy with reading the galley proofs of his next book, Four Seas to Dreamland which is scheduled for September release, Carmel author Nelo Drizari found time to entertain at his Carmel home during the past two weekends.

His annual Fourth of July party drew a large group of his friends and neighbors. And, as usual, it was refreshments and tasty Albanian food such as roast lamb, roast beef, ham, headcheese, four kinds of cheese and olives, baklava, and a salad he had prepared with loving care.

The Independence Day party lasted from five until midnight. Artist Mary Agnes Lansdowne served as hostess.

Among those who attended were: Admiral and Mrs. C. W. Fisher; Mr. and Mrs. Alden C. Esta (both of San Francisco); Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Powell and their daughter Deborah who was escorted by Gery Gerners; Mrs. Phyllis Jervey of Carmel and Washington, D. C.; Ray Benson, Mrs. Germaine Olivie and Gary Lothe of Carmel.

C.; and Mrs. Alice Uehling of Washington, D.C., cousin of hostess Mary Agnes Lansdowne.

The weekend before, the author entertained Dr. Edwin Florence of Pasadena and his wife, the former Liria Louise Coch of Boston, whose family the host knew in Boston. Dr. Florence attended a research conference at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey.

Family Reunion At Campbells

A family reunion was held the Fourth of July weekend at the home of the John Campbells, when their children and grandchildren came to celebrate.

From Concord came Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gearhart (Sally Campbell); from San Luis Obispo Mr. and Mrs. Alberto Ruiz (Martha Campbell) with their 21 months old daughter, Melodie Ann, and their brand new son, Alberto John, born June 20th.

Also present was Jack Campbell, who will be a sophomore at MPC this Fall.

It was a full house but great fun.

Bracero Movement

Dr. Ray Gilmore of Carmel Valley who teaches history at Monterey Peninsula College is writing a history of the bracero movement which leads into the Chavez fight and the California agricultural labor picture.

Down from Palo Alto

The daughter of Alice Coovert Travis of Carmel, Nancy Spencer of Palo Alto, was here over the 4th with her six children.

Carmel Beach on 4th

Among the many campfires on Carmel Beach on July 4th was that of Elayne Hopper Chanslor's family, here over the weekend.

Among the notable salads, there was one made with papaya juice, grated pineapple, gelatin and a teaspoon of Angastora bitters, the recipe of Mrs. Charles Trumbly. Another was made of black cherries and nuts with Sherry wine in the dark gelatin.

The lemon cake of Guild president Rosalie Sievert, not able to be present, was pronounced the lightest.

A parish-wide dinner and theater party to attend a performance of "Oliver" on August 4, was announced by vice-president Mrs. John N. (Marilyn) Anton who will be co-president next year with Mrs. Henry (Camilla) Thomas, also on the committee.

ESP Meeting Friday Night In Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin O. Smith have recently returned to Carmel, after having spent seven months in England and five months in New York.

While in England they lived in Brighton, Sussex which was the home of Mrs. Dorothy Smith until her marriage thirteen years ago. Mrs. Smith is now, however, a United States citizen.

The Smiths, who are both ordained ministers, are the founders of the Light Foundation of Spiritual Research and Healing, a non-profit, non-sectarian organization incorporated under the laws of California.

They will be participating in a public meeting to be held in Carmel on Friday night, July 11 at 8 p.m. at the Cypress Hall, located on Lincoln Street, near Seventh.

"Glamorous French Basket Picnic"

This year the Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula will celebrate Bastille Day on Sunday, July 13, with a gay French Basket Picnic. Everyone brings his/hers own food, elaborate or simple . . . each in its own basket.

Members and guests will meet in Carmel Valley at the California Water Company's plant. Tables are available and wine will be provided. But it is for the individual to prepare his own basket supper. However, if a group of friends pre-arranges what they are bringing, it gives more variety to plan for each family to coordinate their menu so it becomes a share-and-share-alike fun meal when seated at a table for eight.

The latter arrangement makes for a more lavish "fete champetre" (countryside party). So we are suggesting several French-style pique-niques, carried to the rendez-vous in large hampers or small ones, ice containers, thermos for soups, hot or cold.

This first menu could be called a "can-opener" picnic for eight, with American ideas but French flair.

Bouillon-on-the-Rocks
Crisp Rye Wafers
Sweet Butter
Canned Ham with Dijon Mustard
French String Bean Salade
Shoestring Potatoes
Sliced French Bread
Fresh Pears with Camembert
Coffee Brandy

If you have an ice chest, pack the unopened cans of bouillon (6 cans for 8 servings), salad and pears in the portable "frig."

If not, just fill a wide-mouthed thermos with ice for the bouillon. Add ice cubes in any case, at serving, and sip icy bouillon on-the-rocks with lemon quarters . . . or a bit of red wine added.

Open and slice the canned ham (bring a cutting board and sharp knife.)

Open a jar or can of imported string beans, the unfrenched kind, paradoxically, even though this is a French affair. Drain and dress with a tangy unsweet French bottled dressing. Chill and at serving mix with washed and crisped broken salad greens. A few capers/and/or anchovies add a Gallic touch. Whole peppercorns and salt in grinders are on hand.

The French bread may be sliced on the spot, or cut at home, buttered and heated and brought along in its foil container. Shoestring potatoes are, of course, canned.

Attractive and colorful plastic coated plates, real silverware, heat-proof 'throw away' mugs, your prettiest picnic table cover, serviettes to match or contrast . . . but if you've forgotten the can opener, will your face be red! It will be just Anjou pears and Camembert for alli. Although this Sunday, with many Francophiles gathered together, sharing left-at-home substitutes won't be a problem. This is the simplest of gourmet al fresco menus.

Now for a more lavish arrangement, shared by four couples.

Carmel Style French Picnic
Hors d'Oeuvres
Bastonnets de Fromage
Allumettes
Vichyssoise
Hard French Rolls
Sweet Butter
Crab Louis Salade
Petit Fours
Cafe Liqueurs

The hors d'oeuvres are a combination of Carmel and French appetizers. Pate de foie gras may be imported from Strasbourg, or homemade by an expert member of l'Alliance (recipe follows.) There will be mammoth pitted ripe and green olives marinated in olive oil and slit garlic cloves for several days. Drain and save marinade for another time . . . the French never waste anything good.

Thinly sliced "saucisson sec" (dry sausage or salami) and drained artichoke hearts (save this marinade also,) are always appreciated. Have washed fresh mushroom caps ready and cover with the two marinades just mentioned in screw top Mason jar. Shake well and pass with long thin fork for easy handling.

Pate a la Clementine

One lb. chicken livers; 1 lb. unspiced fresh raw pork; 1 bay leaf; 2 garlic cloves; 2 shallots or small onions; salt, pepper and cayenne to taste; 2 white bread slices, crumbled; 2 raw fresh eggs; butter.

Put the chicken livers and chopped pork through fine part of meat grinder three times with the garlic and onions. Add the finely crumbled bay leaf and the white crustless bread crumbs with seasonings to taste. Work into a smooth paste with hands . . . not blender. Beat eggs and add gradually, mixing with hands or wooden spoon until no lumps appear. Grease a bread loaf with butter and fill with pate mixture. Cover with double wax paper. Place tin in another tin half filled with water. Bake in 350 F. oven until pate "detaches itself" from sides of tin. Remove from oven, allow to cool. Without breaking up, place a light weight on top. Chill and unmold at serving on Melba toast rounds or small slices of French hard rolls . . . . with or without sweet butter.

A plastic bag filled with cut up fresh California raw vegetables adds color and crunchiness to the hors d'oeuvre straw trays . . . and save calories for later on.

Bastonnets de Fromage are little cheese filled, fried pastry rectangles, which resemble small croquettes. The Allumettes are "match sticks" made of rich pastry, filled with minced mushrooms, chicken, ham and a thick white sauce, subtly seasoned. It takes a true French hand to make these. We suggest, instead, looking in the gourmet dept. of Carmel's sophisticated food shops: l'Entrepot . . . Nielsen's, Mediterranean Market.

The easiest way to prepare "chicken-in-a basket" is to bake chicken pieces, small drumsticks, thighs and breasts. Coat each first according to directions on packaged Good Seasons "Shake 'n Bake" seasoned coating mix for chicken. Baked stuffed chicken breasts are also quickly done and very de luxe, on a Cordon Bleu scale.

Crab Louis Salade

Two lbs. fresh crabmeat; salad greens; 8 small tomatoes; 8 hard-cooked eggs; 2 cups mayonnaise; ½ cup sour cream; ½ cup chili sauce; ½ cup chopped green pepper; ½ cup chopped scallions or mild onion; salt, paprika and freshly ground pepper; lemon wedges. Serves 8.

Arrange cleaned crabmeat on lettuce or watercress greens. Cut tomatoes in

Michael Keller to Star as Walter Mitty Next for Community Theater on July 11

A group of 12 talented and experienced performers have been cast in varied and colorful roles in the new musical version of "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," which will open Friday, July 11 at the Circle Theater.

Michael Keller, who trained at Northwestern University and graduated from the Pasadena Playhouse, will play the title role.

Keller has worked in professional theater and currently has two films in release by M.G.M. in which he has featured roles. This is his third acting role at the Circle, having appeared there ten years ago as the Dauphin in "The Lark," and a year-and-a-half ago as Elwood P. Dowd in "Harvey."

Jean McBride, the lovely heroine of the Circle's record-breaking hit of "Ten Little Indians," appears this time as Mitty's well-intentioned nagging wife, Agnes. Miss McBride is a graduate in theater at Texas Christian University, was a member of the Theatre Three Company in Dallas and spent two summers at the Alley Theater in Houston.

Layne Littlepage, fresh from three years of theater training at San Francisco State College, will play the tippling nightclub chanteuse, Willa de Wisp. Last year Layne was honored by San Francisco State by being given the Best Actress Award.

Shawn Guild plays Mitty's adoring daughter, Peninnah. Shawn has played in many productions at MPC and at the Studio. She attended the University of Hawaii and is currently majoring in theater arts at San Francisco State.

Milton Hayes has been cast as the "love 'em and Leave 'em travelin' man," Fred Gorman. Hayes is an extremely versatile and creative young actor, having appeared on all the Peninsula little theatre stages. His last role at the Circle was that of the sinister Dr. Armstrong in "Ten Little Indians."

Mark Oman takes on the role of body-building weightlifter, Irving. Mark studied at UCLA and Valley State College. He created, wrote and acted in "Summer Sundae," a short-subject film, which was one of the ten finalists in the 1968 Academy Awards.

Jim Jordan, veteran of the Troupers of the Gold Coast at the California First Theater, and with leading roles at the Studio to his credit, has the role of the happy bartender, Harry.

Wendy C. Harden will portray the talkative Hazel. Wendy studied five years at Stanford, and at the University of Oregon won the Best Actress Award at the Oregon Drama Conference.

Bonnie Rae Dowd is cast as the hard-nosed Ruthie. Bonnie studied voice for four years and was the 1967 Miss University of Idaho.

A trio of actors who will assume many different characters in "Mitty" is composed of Tim Gleeson, who will be remembered for his role as the would-be Detective Blore in "Ten Little Indians;" Jonathan Reynolds, who played the supporting lead in "Carnival"; and Sandra Jordon in her first role at the Circle.

"The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," directed by Roy Baxter, with music direction by Tom Fordham, will play Wednesdays through Sundays at 8:30, alternating weekly with "Sweet Charity" through Labor Day. Reservations are now being accepted by calling 624-2669.

Stage Review

Ernest In Love — Happy plot, happy music, a thoroughly happy production. Now at the Studio nightly except Monday and Tuesday. Farce about two Victorian ladies who admire the name Ernest, and their two swains, neither of whose name is Ernest. The shenanigans make for a zany set of events and a great evening of entertainment. Don't miss "Ernest In Love," and make certain you don't by making reservations at 624-1661 or 624-2321.

Sweet Charity — One of two attractions at the Circle. "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" opens July 11, and will run alternately with "Sweet Charity" through Labor Day. "Charity" is a dancehall-girl-with-a-heart-of-gold type of thing, with Akemi Ito as Charity. Akemi is a great dancer, fine comedienne and handles the singing with more than just sufficiency. The rest of the cast of this musical is mighty good. For reservations call 624-2669.

Movie Review

Oliver! — This Academy Award winner is based on the Charles Dickens novel Oliver Twist. From the London musical stage and directed by Sir Carol Reed. At Cinema 70.

If — A provocative British film about an English boy's boarding school. An excellent film that may be interpreted as allegory. At the Hill.

Ulysses — James Joyce's monumental novel comes to the screen, not only as a brilliant and absorbing film, but also as a superb translation of the classic itself. At the Village July 16-17 only.

Peter Pan—Walt Disney's delightful feature-length cartoon version of Sir James Barrie's timeless play. All the wonderful characters are there. Reissue. At the Steinbeck one week only.

Run Wild, Run Free — A sensitive, melodramatic film starring Mark Lester of "Oliver!" He plays a boy who has lost his power of speech and is befriended by retired Colonel John Mills. At the Valley Cinema.

Sinful Davey — Light and sometimes bawdy comedy about a bold young Scottish rogue. John Huston's direction and convincing performances provide visual and humorous assets. At the Village.

Sam Whiskey — A western comedy with Burt Reynolds, who agrees to return stolen gold to a US mint. Crime, suspense, and a resourceful hero. At the Marina Auto Movie.

Belle de Jour—Rich, fresh and lovely Catherine Deneuve is a confused French housewife who goes to work afternoons in Paris house of ill fame. Interesting characterizations. At the Village.

Funny Girl — Barbra Streisand's first movie. Life story of Fanny Brice. Omar Sharif as gangster Nick Arnstein is outstanding. Walter Pidgeon too. At the Regency.

The Wild Bunch — Robert Ryan is the head of a bunch of bounty hunters. William Holden has a bunch of robbers. Emilio Fernandez leads a bunch of Mexican bandits. Wild. At Marina Auto Movie.

Popi — Alan Arkin is becoming one of America's outstanding actors. Here he portrays a Puerto Rican widower in New York trying to raise his two sons. Tremendous sweep. At the Golden Bough.

MacKenna's Gold — Skulduggery in the West. Gregory Peck as the honest marshal, Omar Sharif as a bandit. Also with Keenan Wynn, Eli Wallach, Edward G. Robinson, Julie Newmar and Burgess Meredith. At the State.

Night of the Following Day — Marlon Brando is a kidnapper in this story of a Paris snatch. Richard Boone is a psychopath partner of Brando, iRta Moreno as the moll. At the State.

Additions to our McNaughton collection this week include five non-fiction items worthy of being called to your attention. (And you all remember that the McNaughton books are not our property but are rented for your use and will later be returned to the agency from which they came.)

Jack Newfield is assistant editor of the Village Voice in New York, and a contributor to The Nation. His new book is a chronology and an analysis of the years between the gunshots of Dallas and Lon Angeles, and of the changes in America between 1963 and 1968.

The title of the book is Robert Kennedy, A Memoir. His account of the assassination of Robert Kennedy is extremely poignant.

Can you envision being ruled by a big-think government computer which contains complete information on every person in the country and which cannot be changed or corrected in any way? This may be the way we are heading today, and Jerry Rosenberg has a new book on this possibility entitled The Death of Privacy. Read it and cringe.

The Moneymakers, The Great Big New Rich In America is the title of a new book by Kenneth Lamott who lives in Tiburon.

In this book the author describes and recounts the careers of a brace of men who have made themselves very rich and the book is illustrated by as many photographs to show the interested reader just what these enterprising people look like. Not very pretty, generally.

Once upon a time two nurses joined the Air Force nursing corps and their names were Joni Moura and Jackie Sutherland. Their account of the war is pretty riotous, the reading of which might stimulate enlistment as well as incredulity.

The title of the book is Tender Loving Care.

Apollo On the Moon is by Henry S. F. Cooper Jr.

Here you will find an account of just what our moon-explorers will find when they land, and just what they will do to fulfill their proposed mission, how they will feel and what specimens they will collect.

The Olympian by Brian Glanville has already won a prize and will no doubt be much talked about.

Told from the standpoint of a British distance runner, it is almost the inside story of the Olympics and the athletes who compete in them. The author appeared on television, advertising his book, and seemed most knowledgeable about championship athletics and what it takes to compete.

JUNGLE CAT — Here's the voracious jungle cat looking around for its prey. I'll keep a sharp eye out for a monster mouse and stalk it silently as we hungry jungle beasts are so noted for doing, then pounce on the unsuspecting rodent and finish it off with one swipe of my mighty paw. Of course, if you're tenderhearted and can't stand the bloody slaughter, hurry right down to the SPCA on the Salinas-Monterey Highway across from the Laguna Seca Racetrack, and claim me. I'll be waiting.

Free Moon Maps For Apollo 11 Shot

When Apollo 11 is launched July 16 and "Snoopy" lands on the moon July 22, children across the country will be able to keep track of the astronauts' progress with colorfully illustrated maps of the moon and outer space created by McDonald's Corp., nationwide restaurant chain.

"Even though classrooms may be closed for the summer," says McDonald's president Fred L. Turner, "the learning process needn't stop, too — especially when an event as significant as the Apollo mission is taking place. Children will be able to follow the progress of the flight and the landing from the information supplied by these maps, which are based on NASA drawings."

The maps — prepared by Rand McNally & Co. — will be available free of charge at all participating McDonald's restaurants beginning the first week in July. No purchase is necessary.

Witnesses Convene

Members of the Pacific Grove congregation of Jehovah's witnesses are leaving this week for a seven-day convention, July 14-20, at Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles.

Nearly all members of the local group will join thousands of other delegates who are coming from all 50 states, 17 countries and islands of the sea. According to Francis Goetz, presiding minister of Jehovah's witnesses in Pacific Grove, local services will be suspended for the next two weeks.

"Thousands of cars are flooding the highways this week," he said, "equipped with bumper signs reading, 'Jehovah's witnesses, Dodger Stadium Assembly, Los Angeles.' We have looked forward to this convention for many months, and we are anticipating a program that will instill within us a deeper appreciation for our Christian responsibilities," he concluded.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

by Raymond MacDonald

Q. I've cut down on the number of pupils I give voice lessons to since I became 65. On the self-employment tax on that income, can I now earn up to $1,680 before I have to pay the self-employment tax.

A. The requirement for self-employment tax applies regardless of age. When net income from self-employment is $400 or more for the year the tax must be paid. Note that the $400 figure is a net figure. Your gross income from self-employment should be reduced by whatever expenses you had in earning this income. In your case, the cost of sheet music, piano tuning and the like could be deducted from your gross income.

Q. Will there be any difficulty in collecting reimbursement under Part B if a woman's receipted bill shows her married name rather than her name as shown on her Health Insurance card; e.g. Mrs. John Smith instead of Mary Smith?

A. There should be no difficulty in collecting under these circumstances as long as the claims form identifies her as one and the same. However, it would be best to have the bill made out in the name shown on the Health Insurance card to eliminate any possibility of difficulty, always include your claim number on the bill.

Q. I am unable to drive my car because of a disability, and depend on my son to bring me into the office, the only day he is off work is on Saturday, do you maintain office hours on Saturday?

A. Yes, in addition to the regular daily hours from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, the local Branch Office is open each Saturday from 9 to 12 noon.

Q. I am being treated at home for a chronic condition and must take certain drugs which the doctor has prescribed. Are these drugs covered by Medical Insurance?

A. Only drugs and injections which are administered by a physician and cannot be self-administered are covered by Medicare. For example, a tetanus injection administered by a doctor or his nurse following an injury would be covered, but not perscriptions drugs which you administer yourself.

Q. My cleaning woman doesn't have a Social Security number. Should I just leave that information out when I file the quarterly return on the wages I pay her?

A. No, a Social Security number is needed so that her earnings may be properly credited to her account. You should tell your employee to fill in an application Form SS-5 and send or take it to the nearest Social Security district office. These applications forms may be obtained from any Social Security district office, Post Office, or from any California State Dement of Employment Office. Care in using Social Security numbers will help make sure that worker's earnings are properly credited to his record. No one should ever have or use more than one Social Security number.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o the Carmel Pine Cone, Carmel, or phone Social Security 373-3351).

Christian Science Bible Lesson

A communion service will be held this Sunday in all Christian Science churches. All are welcome. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Sacrament" and includes Jesus' words, "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word." *

Related passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "That he might liberally pour his dear-bought treasures into empty or sin-filled human storehouses, was the inspiration of Jesus' intense human sacrifice. . . . The purpose of his great life-work extends through time and includes universal humanity." **

FALSE GODS
The chief idols in the desecrated temple of mankind, are none other than the triple gods of Nationalism, Racialism and Communism, at whose altars governments and peoples, whether democratic or totalitarian, at peace or at war, of the East or of the West, Christian or Islamic, are, in various forms and in different degrees, now worshipping. Their high priests are the politicians and the worldly-wise, the so-called sages of the age; their sacrifice, the flesh and blood of the slaughtered multitudes; their incantations, outworn shibboleths and insidious and irreverent formulas; their incense, the smoke of anguish that ascends from the lacerated hearts of the bereaved, the maimed, and the homeless. What is Christ?

Christ is the spirit of Truth and Love that Jesus taught and lived. It comes to each one of us when we are receptive to it.

No matter how far you may feel from the Christ, you can discover it for yourself. You can recognize its power to meet any situation.

You may learn how by coming to our study room and reading this week's Bible Lesson. It contains ideas that heal.

New 'Gotaas' Tour Includes Egypt, Turkey, Holy Land on Luxury Yacht

Egypt is a montage of striking scenes.

Upon arrival at Alexandria, the myriad minarets of the mosques, the market place and the ubiquitous dates are lasting scenes.

From Alexandria, follow the Nile over the shallow bar at Rosetta and watch the feluccas under full sail toward Cairo, for the Nile is a curious river, and a benevolent one.

Sailing toward the Mediterranean Sea, the felucca pilot floats with the river current, but going back up the Nile, the prevailing winds fill his sails and he is borne to his destination.

In Cairo, there is about an even number of Moslem women who cling to the veil, and those who have heeded Nassar's urging to come out of "purdah."

The streets teem with what seems to be all those elements you thought Cairo would be.

The city seems almost to make a deliberate effort to be Cairo-ish, much to the delight of the traveler. It's one of the few major cities of the world that is exactly as you imagined it.

To do the whole tour bit in Egypt, the pyramids, of course, are a must.

You get thousands of words of advice as to just when they are the most beautiful, the most romantic, the most mysterious—either dawn or sunset. It's really a matter of choice, just don't go in the heat of the day.

Travel agents are offering another "Gotaas World Travel Adventure" which includes air travel by TWA and surface travel on the luxury yacht MST Orpheus, registered in Greece. The cruise includes, besides Egypt, Greece, the storied lands of the Bible, the Turkish shores and ancient Asia Minor, the Phoenician Coast, Holy Land and the Holy City.

Town House Program

The Carmel Foundation will present a program of color slides shown by Miss Bess Pangburn at 2:30, Wednesday, July 23, at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

Mrs. William (Susan) Freeling will describe the scenes of San Diego and Death Valley. These were the high points of the March tour taken by Foundation members.

The public is invited to the slide talk. Tea will be served following the program.

Rodeo To Salute Bicentennial

The California Rodeo at Salinas, July 17 through 20, will salute the approaching Old Monterey Bi-centennial celebration with special features reminiscent of the early history of the region and the state.

These will include a colorful pageant of the nine flags which have flown over the state as part of the opening ceremonies of the rodeo which will get underway each day at 1:30 o'clock.

There will also be a seldom seen hide race which will recall the days when hides and tallow were the leading exports of the area and hides were used as a medium of monetary transactions.

In addition, at the Saturday and Sunday performances there will be special appearances of Las Charras de Escaramuza, an internationally famous girls' drill team from Mexico.

Included in the pageant of flags will be the banners of Spain, England, the Argentine, the Russian-American company and Mexico as well as the Bear flag of California and the Stars and Stripes.

The hide race consists of a horseman racing to a turning point with a hide trailing behind his horse. At the turning point the hide rider climbs aboard the hide and tries to hang on back to the finish line.

Las Charras de Escaramuza, who will be making one of their rare appearances in the United States in honor of Monterey Peninsula Day on Saturday and Latin-American Day on Sunday, ride side-saddle and wear national costumes.

Completing the program on the track will be the unique Roman Riding over jumps of Elaine Kramer, trick riders, barrel racers, thoroughbred races, Western races and horse show classes for cutting horses and stock horses.

Christian Science Radio Program

A program titled, "Your Community Needs You" will be broadcast Sunday morning as part of the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be broadcast over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45 and KDON at 8:45. The program turns to the Bible for help in problems of urban renewal, emphasizing, as a major aspect, the importance of unselfish love for our neighbors.

An ad in the Pine Cone has a 7-times-better chance to be read than an ad in a daily newspaper.

Baxter, Harrah in Kiwanis Beef (Auction)

Web Downer, president of the Carmel Kiwanis, auctioned off two huge steaks in honor of Beefeaters Day at last Thursday's Kiwanis meeting at the Pine Inn.

The steaks were furnished by the Monterey County Cattle Association, and were knocked down to Col. George Baxter, who despite the pain it caused him, out-bid Judge Eugene Harrah and got the delectable beef for $6.50.

Two members of the Cowbelles, Mrs. Del Garlinger and Mrs. Jim Barton, both of Salinas, were guests at the meeting, bringing with them a film on the beef industry in California, narrated by Joel McCrea.

The Cowbelles are a woman's auxiliary to the cattle association who travel to service clubs and other organizations promoting California beef.

For further information, write Monterey County Cowbelles, Salinas.

Town House Opera Workshop

The Carmel Foundation will present the Peninsula Opera Workshop in a song recital Wednesday, July 16, 2:30, at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

Mrs. Nancy Ness Bowman, founder-director of the Workshop, said the program would include music by Mozart, Brahms, Schubert, music from Tosca and from Broadway melodies. She added, "We perform all over the Peninsula. We have given fifteen performances so far this year. This is our contribution to the area in which we live."

Mrs. Bowman is a professional opera singer who has appeared in Europe's largest opera houses and with its foremost symphony orchestras. Born and trained in Norway as well as in Vienna, Berlin and London, she came to this country before the war, and was unable to return when it started. For her fund-raising work during the war she was awarded the King's Medal by King Olaf. She had sung all over the United States, including appearances in Madison Square Garden and Carnegie Hall.

She continued, "Through the Workshop my mission is to give to young people training in how to present themselves in public." Some members are professionals, some amateurs. They meet for weekly rehearsals."

"One member, Vincent Russo, baritone, recently won third place with prizes of money and appearances at the Metropolitan Auditions in San Francisco. He was born in Monterey, grew up here, starting his voice study when he was fifteen.

The public is invited to the recital free of charge, and to the tea which will be served following it.

A Grandmother's House

— with guest house, which all proper Carmel Grandmothers' homes should have

Why spend your fun years in keeping up a big house? Zip through your work in a little redwood cottage of infinite charm and you're ready for your tea and crumpets by the fireplace, or walking on the beach, or sunning in your private patio, or just hanging over the Dutch door and chatting with your neighbor, in record time. Adorable garden if you have a green thumb, or leave it wild if you haven't. The guest house is your real bonus and keeps your one bedroom all for you. The price is only $29,500 and you will be among the first to see it if you call right away as it hasn't been on the market before.
